THE Naval Court of Inquiry which is to be held at Shanghai in connection with the sinking of the Kowshing can hardly bring out any further facts than those already published in the narratives of the survivors, so for as regards the actual sinking of the vessel, but it will be interesting to have the witnesses subjected to cross-examination as to the conduct of the Japanese when the living freight was struggling in the water. Out of the eight Europeans on board three only were saved, namely, the captain, the chief officer, and Mr. von Hanneken, the Chinese military adviser, who was a passenger on board. It will be the duty of the Court to inquire how those who were not eaved lost their lives, the Chinese as well as the question whether they were fixed upon by the Japaneso while in the water. It is to be fared, however, that one of the Europeans will not be available as a witness as Mr. von HANNEREN, whose evidence would have been especially valuable, will naturally be unable to leave his duties in the North at this important crisis. It would be satisfactory if witnesses from the Japanese man-of-war could attend to give the Japa-Japanese Government would of course not submit its action to the judgment of such a tribunal as a Naval Court of Inquiry. The position to form a judgment on the circumstances han it is at the present moment.

The Jupanese bave been charged with inhumanity, and the only remaining uncertainty in the case is in connection with that charge. Up to the point of sinking of the Kowshing the behaviour of the Naniwa appears to have been irreprobchable. Sanitary Board Room,

Sir .- I have the bonour to forward you herewith the second quarterly report for 1894. 1.-Plans for the drainage of three hundred and forty-nine (349) houses have been received during the half year, i.e., one hundred and ulnety dred and fifty one (151) during the second quarter. The drainage of two hundred and fifty-two (252) houses was still incomplete at the close of 1893, giving a total of six hundred and one (601) houses in hand during the present your. 2. Of the above houses ninety-two (92) were completed during the first quarter and ninety one (91) during the second quarter, and the plan of two (2) houses was cancelled giving a total of one hundred and eighty-five (185) for the half year and leaving four hundred and sixteen (416) to carry forward.

3.—Certificates have been granted during the half year to thirty-eight (33) houses under section 74 Ordinance 24 of 1887 as having been built in accordance with the provisions of that periods of 1892 and 1893. This is to be accounted for in great measure by the visitation of plague and the consequent exodus of Chinese-landhouse however, now in hand require only to have the cookhouse floors relaid or gratings fixed in order to complete them, and I trust I may be able to report a considerable number completed the Miners' Eight Hours Bill has been withat the end of the next quarter.

5 .- The time has now undoubtedly arrived fo the Board, as mentioned in my annual report for 1893, " to obtain powers for and to institute systematic inspection of the drainage arrangements of all private promises throughout the Colony." This, in my opinion, is one of the first measures to be adopted to prevent a recurrence of the epidemia which is now, for a time a least, happily at an oud. 6.-This work of redraininge must under an ircumstances take a considerable time to complets, but it may be greatly expedited by proassisting by providing for the best materials and workmanship and for a thorough superintendence of the work while it is in hand.

7.-The new drainage arrangements when completed should be periodically inspected, the traps should be cleaned once a week, the drains once is six months, and all necessary repairs should be promptly executed. The proverb A stilch in time seven nine" is still true and is very 8.-There is a personal responsibility at taching to all owners of property to provide healthy houses for their tensuts, and I sincerely in their power to safewoord the City against another outbreak of the plague or some worse bedient servant, J. R. CROOK.

No. 12. TO THE EDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS." DEAR SIR-In my letter No. 11, in your issue of this morning, I have ventured to criticleansing and disinfecting work when the plague was at its height. Owing to my absence for three weeks in Japan, I had overlooked the impossibility, which existed of procuring Chinese shour at that time, and that the European force of police was quite incapable of this added work. In the full conviction that there must have been some cogent resson for such a departura from the ordinary procedure, I have qualified my remarks by a general allusion to the exceptional conditions prevailing at the time; but the real cause, arising from the dight of the working masons and painters, had escaped Or me, and I hasten to make this acknowledge

Some say :- " We marely reflected the "opinions of experts and of the mutical profession; our concinsions were unavoidable." How Are there not towns in England where the mortality is constantly one per cent. of their whabitants over that of more favoured districts? Is this accepted as a proof that the whole town must be levelled and the buildings burned? Certainly not. IMPERIAL QUARTO. HNGLISH AND CHINESE WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION.

NOW ON SALE

Daily Press Office, Hougkong, For comprehensiveness and practical service: this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinose have of lator cars been compolled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fally filustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size United States should be sent to the Company's of hody, thereby effecting a vist economy of Offices in Scaled Envelopes, eddressed to the space, achieving a clearness, not proviously Collector of Customs at Sau Francisco. attained, and disponsing with those vast margins. and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications.

following facts are submitted for consideration:-Chalmers Vocabulary contains shout 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and nows is of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, de pite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely regaires examples to display the various amplications and aquivalente of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitherto pub-

the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands Einglish to communicate effectively with natives who ZINTO." 25th August understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in Chine, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-

It comprises upwards of two thousand large 4 Vols Impebial Quanto, Price, $20. A Large REDUCTION in PRICE is made to Purchasers of SIX or more Copies.
